The Caledonian Mercury.

Edinburgh, Wednesday, December 3, 1729.

From the Daily Post-Boy, Nov. 25.

Seville, Nov. 10.

THE Ambassadors of G. Britain, France and Holland have continued their Conferences with as much Success since the Arrival of Mr. Stanhope, that the Project of Peace or Truce for 14 Years was Ingross'd and sign'd Yesterday. Nevertheless the Court has sent Orders to raise considerable Numbers of Seamen, to be employed on board the Men of War that are equipping in the several Ports of this Kingdom.

Hagus, Decem. 2. Letters from Seville of the 10th Inst. advise, that a Treaty of Pacification was sign'd there the 9th; but the Purport thereof was not publickly known.

For what regards the Negotiations at Brunswick, they do not yet appear with a very promising Aspect.

Paris, Nov. 30. By a Ship arrived at Brest we learn, That some French Merchants at Tripoli were insulted after the Ratification of the Treaty; whereupon the Consul of France complained to the Divan, who ordered a certain Number of Roman-Catholick Slaves of different Nations to be delivered up to the Consul, till the Criminals are brought to Punishment.

The Prosecution of Mr. Masson, Comptroller-General of the Duke of Lorain's Finances, is carried on; he continues in Prison, being charg'd with the Crime of peculation, or imbezling the publick Money, and with a Debt of 500,000 Livres to that Prince.

Legborn, Nov. 12. On the 10th came in here the Henry and Mary, Capt. Ouchterlony, from Hamburg.

From the London Evening-Post, Nov. 25.

Cadix, May 7. The Mary, late Capt. Whiple, is sold here to the Spaniards, who intend her for an Aviso; and the Santo Esprito, late Capt. Poree, is sold to be one of the Galleons.

Barbadoes, Nov. 1. Sixteen Persons are brought in here, who were taken from off the Bottom of the Speedwell of Glasgow, Will. Carmichael, bound from Maryland to Glasgow with 289 Hogsheads of Tobacco. They inform us, that she overset, and that they had been several Days on the Wreck, in which time 3 of her Crew perished.

Portsmouth, Nov. 21. On the 19th in the Evening a very sad Accident attended the Portland's Yawl: As they were coming for the Sally-port, not far from their Ship, The overset, and 3 of the Men that were in her were drowned; viz. the Surgeon, the Midshipman, and 3 of the Foremast-men: The rest by timely Assistance of other Boats, were taken out of the Water with great Difficulty, it blowing a hard Gale.

Bristol, Nov. 22. We have received the melancholly News of the Phips, a large Ship belonging to this Port, having been lost near Boston.

Dover, Nov. 23. On Friday Night some Englishmen drinking with two Dutchmen, a Quarrel arose; the Dutchmen drew their Knives, and one of the Englishmen received three Stabs in the Body and a Cut in his Throat. The Dutchmen are committed.

London, Nov. 25. The Honourable Morgan Vane Esq; who brought over the Treaty, rode 1300 Miles in 13 Days.

His Majesty has been pleased to grant a Dispensation to the Rev. Dr. Gee, Dean of Lincoln, for his Non-residence, for which the Bishop is proceeding against him.

We hear Commissioners will be appointed to settle the Losses our Merchants have sustainted by the Spaniards, and that they will have Satisfaction by the Court of Spain, pursuant to the late Treaty; and which, 'tis said, is on many other Accounts very beneficial to this Kingdom.

Yesterday 10 Men of a Company were reduced out of the First and Third Regiments of Guards: A Fournight's Pay was allowed to each Man; and Orders were given them not to travel above 3 in Company in their Return to their respective Countries.

From

From the Whitehall Evening Post, Nov. 25.

Hague, Decem. 2. Some Advices from Florence say, That the Great Duke of Tuscany has resolv'd to augment his Troops with 4000 Men, and order'd a good Guard on his Sea Coasts, with other Measures necessary to oppose any Descent upon his Dominions. We are told that the Treaty signed at Seville was preceeded by a preliminary Convention concerning Don Carlos.

London, Nov. 25. They write from Falmouth the 27th ult. that a large Dutch Ship was cast away in Mountbay, and all the Crew drowned.

On Friday last died suddenly Sir Scipio Hill at his Lodgings in St. James's Street. He left 500 l. to his Footman.

Saturday his R. Highness the Prince of Wales was at the Theatre in Lincoln's-inn-fields, and saw the Play of Measure for Measure, with an Entertainment of Apollo and Daphne.

Several Robberies have been committed since our last.

Wye's Letter verbatim, London, Novem. 27.

Since our last arrived a Mail from Flanders.

THE King of Spain, as an Instance of his Esteem for his Britannick Majesty, has notified the Birth of an Infanta (as in our last from the Gazette). And Yesterday the said Courier having received his Dispatches from this Court, set out Post on his Return home.

'Tis credibly reported that the Land-tax will, the ensuing Session of Parliament, be reduced to 2 sh. in the Pound.

Our Possessions abroad, which have been the Subject of so much Discourse, are so secured and preserved by the Treaty with Spain, that the Garrisons of Gibraltar and Portmahon are very shortly to be reduced; and it is assured that by the said Treaty, the Subjects of Great Britain are to have full Satisfaction for what Losses they have sustained in America by the Spaniards: All agree that this happy Turn given to Affairs, is in some Measure owing to the long Continuance of the Fleet at Spithead.

Since our last 1705 Pieces of Stuff, and great Quantities of Linen, &c. were exported for Spain and the West Indies.

A dreadful Storm rose this Morning about two, which was within a few Hours of that which happened the 26th of November 1703. We hear it has done considerable Damage in the River, and at Greenwich; and our Merchants are afraid of hearing bad News from the Downs, where a very great Number of Ships still remain.

Most People are recovered of the great Colds attended with Fevers; the like whereof had scarce been known: But it is now reckoned that the City is in a very good State of Health; for there was another Decrease in the Burials this Week of 148; which reduces the whole Number of the Burials to 635, the smallest Number known of late Years, especially in this Month, when the Town is so full of People.

The Cause in which Mr. Coker was Plaintiff, and Mr. Fairwell Defender, about an Estate in the County of Dorset, of 500 l. per Annum, was tried last Tuesday in the Court of Common Pleas, and given for the Defendant.

'Tis reported that the Bishop of Armagh, Lord Primate of Ireland, has put in his Claim, as being next Heir to Sir Thomas Coleby deceased; the Commission of Appraisement relating to the Estate of Sir Thomas will be returned next Tuesday, when it is thought Letters of Administration will be granted to such as are nearest of Kin, unless his Majesty should insist on his Claim.

P. S. In the Storm above mentioned, several 100 Boats which lay at Anchor at Greenwich, were sunk or overset; the like whereof had not been known: But not one Ship as we can hear received any Damage. Yesterday they began to reduce the Men of War at Spithead, and are paying the discharged Men that belonged to the Argyle, being 40 in Number.

From the Daily Post Boy, Nov. 27.

Vienna, Nov. 16. Since the Departure of the Duke of Lorrain, Men begin to doubt of his Return to this Court; and it is whisper'd that he designs to marry the young Queen Dowager of Spain; but this is very unlikely.

Hague, Decem. 2. The Council of State has been preparing, and are upon the point of delivering in their annual Petition, commonly called The State of the War for the Year ensuing; wherein are included the ordinary and extraordinary Expences of the Government, and particularly the Charges of fitting out a Squadron of eight Men of War early in the Spring; the Design of which, tho' not yet declared, is generally thought to be to join the English, and proceed to the Mediterranean.

The grand Event of the Treaty signed at Seville, will will once more change the Face of Affairs of Europe, and secure the Balance of Power to the Allies of Hanover. We are now impatient to hear how the Emperor will resent this Proceeding of his Catholic Majesty; it being highly improbable that he will tamely acquiesce with this new Treaty, the Terms whereof are kept so very secret, that the Ministers of the Italian Princes at Paris are already observed to be exceedingly disturbed at it. And 'tis hardly to be doubted, but the Emperor will cherish the Discontent of these Princes, especially of the King of Sardinia, who can at no rate affect the Neighbourhood of Don Carlos, in Expectation that he will, with the Assistance of the King his Father, excite fresh Troubles in Italy.

The Court of Berlin is so far from shewing a sincere Intention to accommodate the unhappy Differences with that of Hanover, that it is generally apprehended the Conferences of Brunswick will not be attended with the desired Success; and the rather, because the Prussian Commissary knows not where to stop, but makes use of a new sort of Multiplication Table, whereby he quadruples at Pleasure, on the Side of Prussia, any Number of Men demanded though on never so just Grounds on the Part of Hanover: Thus, for instance, if the Hanoverians claim 9 of their Subjects, the Commissary produces a List of 33 Subjects of Prussia: If the Hanoverians reclaim 40 Deserters, the Commissary gives in a List of 136 Men enrolled, 3 that had Furlots, and 27 Deserters, making together 166 Men. He farther demands 49 Men seized in Hanover by way of Reprisals. But all this is done by a Rule in Arithmetick that will never be allowed by the Regency of Hanover. Mean time the Troops of Hanover and Hesse-Cassel are augmenting against all Adventures: For if the Differences cannot be accommodated this Winter, 'tis feared there will be a Rupture in the Spring.

Dublin, Nov. 15. Monday last died here Richard Nutley, Esq; a very eminent Counsellor at Law, and one of our Judges in the Reign of our most Gracious Lady Queen ANNE. Next Day his Body was opened, in order to know his Disorder, having had no Passage for 10 Days before his Death; and to their great Surprise, there was found a Plumbstone lying cross-ways in his Bowels, where it had caused a Mortification, and which was the Causa of his Death.

London Nov. 27. They write from Blandford in Dorsetshire, That there has raged in that Neigh-hourhood an epidemical Disorder, like a common Cold on the Stomach, attended with a violent Fever, that hardly any Man, Woman or Child out of 20,000 have escaped it; That several elderly Persons in that Town have died thereof in 3 or 4 Days. They lose their Stomachs; and whatever is forced down, has the Relish of a nasty Bitter in the Mouth, tho' made as savory as Art could render it.

Robberies are so frequent, that to repte them all would fill up our whole Paper.

From the St. James's Evening Post, Nov. 27.

Vienna, Nov. 19. 'Tis said the Opening of the Diet of the States of Lower Austria will be the 28th Inst. in this City, and that the Demands of the Emperor will be the same as last Year; because it seems the Seat of the War will be in Italy the next Spring: But this is only a Conjecture. A Report is spread, that some thousand Men are suddenly to be raised to augment the Emperor's Troops, and that in the mean time there will be detached from the Hereditary Countries such a Number as will be necessary to recruit those which are in Italy. But the Truth of this Time must discover.

London, Novem. 27. We are credibly informed, that by the late Treaty, the Subjects of G. Britain are to have full Satisfaction for what Losses they have sustained in America by the Spaniards since the 11th of June 1728, being the Day after the Cessation of Arms was formally notified at Cartagena in New Spain.

From Whitehall Evening Post, Nov. 27.

London, Nov. 27. We are informed from good Hands, that by the Treaty of Peace it is agreed as follows, viz.

1. That all former Treaties shall be held as confirmed, as if they were repte verbatim.
2. That all Ships taken in Europe after the 20th of May 1727, O. S. the Day on which the Preliminary Articles were signed at Paris, shall be restor'd, or Satisfaction made for them and their Effects.
3. That all Ships taken in America after the 10th of June 1728, when the Cessation of Arms was formally notified to the Governors in New Spain, shall be also restored.
4. That Commissioners shall be appointed to examine all Claims on account of Ships taken before the Rupture, that Satisfaction may be made for them.

5. That

5. That Trade shall be put upon the same Foot it was before the Rupture.
 6. That the Effects of the South Sea Company shall be restored.
 7. That the Charter and Commerce of Ostend to the Indies shall be suspended for 14 Years.
 8. That the Allies of Hanover shall Guarantee the Succession of Don Carlos to the Dominions of Tuscany, Parma and Placentia.

Edinburgh, Decem. 3.

Yesterday the Corpse of the Lord Provost's Lady were inter'd with a very pompous Solemnity.
